ONLY 1 JUROR PICKED TO TRY GOV. SMALL

Practically All Members Are Excused for Having "Fixed Opinion"

NEW VENIRE SELECTED

Governor Small went on trial Monday, charged with conspiracy to embezzle state funds.

One juror had been tentatively accepted by both sides, one tentatively passed by the defense and twenty-two dismissed for causes that ranged from inability to understand English to possession of fixed opinions when court adjourned.

Both sides were predicting a jury will be obtained within a week or ten days, instead of the earlier estimates of three or four weeks.

The state accepted four men out of the first twenty-two examined but when they were turned over to the defense two were challenged for cause and one was excused by the court because of his health.

Governor Small, his son Leslie, and a number of friends attended the opening session.

Judge Edwards announced it will not be necessary for the governor to remain in court throughout the trial.

The fight of the day was waged over Edward V. Price, of Lake Forest, millionaire clothing manufacturer.

Mr. Price said he had no fixed opinion but did have a "very strong impression."

The impression, he said, would not keep him from trying the case impartially, and questioning by C. C. LeForge and Alexander F. Beaubien attorneys for the governor, failed to shake his statement. Mr. Beaubien attempted to challenge Mr. Price for cause but Judge Edwards overruled the motion.

Mr. Beaubien protested that Mr. Price had expressed his opinion when he said:

"I think where there is so much smoke there must be fire."

The prospective juror reasserted he would try to give the governor an impartial trial.

"What is your opinion of the success you would have?" Mr. Beaubien asked.

"Well, that would depend on how long the trial lasted," Mr. Price said, "You mean that would hamper your ability?"

"I think it would—if the trial is long drawn out."

Mr. Price apparently was seated when he asked leave to make a statement, and pleaded that a recent illness might lead to a physical breakdown if he was confined for service too long. The court excused him.

Albert Johnson, Fox Lake hotel keeper, was excused by the state when he testified to being an intimate friend of Mayor Thompson, Fred Lundin and William Stratton, Illinois game warden. Theodore Goldschmidt, the wealthy Waukegan commission man, tentatively accepted by both sides Monday, was excused by agreement.

Mr. Goldschmidt was a member of a jury in Waukegan seven years ago which found guilty a woman charged with having incited mob action against another woman. The latter, according to testimony, had broken up the home of the defendant.

Only sixty-one of the first panel of 100 called for remained after the court had disposed of excuses, sixteen of the missing forty-one being permitted to go home, while the remainder of the absentees were not served for one reason or another.

LAKE VILLAGE-ANTIOCH BIDS OPENED MAY 1

Contracts for section L of route 21, will be opened Monday, May 1, at 2 p. m.

Section "L" is that part of route 21 known as section 5 and includes roadway from the end of the cement on Grand Avenue to the Soo Line tracks and then jumps the section that will provide for the overhead bridge and starts at a point about one-quarter of a mile north of the tracks to the south limits of Antioch.

Developments of the week point to a speedy conclusion of preliminaries to the letting of section 6—the section from the south limit of Antioch to the state line.

Objection was raised by the state highway department to the curve, as shown in Mr. Russell's plans, at the junction of Main and Depot streets, and although all right of ways were cleared it looked as if this objection might hold up the road indefinitely.

A committee of local men were fortunate in securing a hearing with Governor Small in Waukegan Tuesday and in a conference lasting almost two hours went into every detail on the road question and after a thorough examination of the plans specified and approved by the village he assured the committee he would do all in his power to have the present plans approved by the state highway department and urge an early letting of this section.

The governor complimented the village in having their plans pass through the court without a single objection.

"Sylvia" to Be Presented at High School May 8

The High School Operetta is to be given this year on Monday, May 8th. "Sylvia" is the name of the musical play selected. It is considerably more difficult and considered a better play than "The Windmills of Holland," which was given last year. Besides the large chorus of girls, there is the boys double quartette which will also sing in the chorus.

Those who will take the principle parts are Guy Bezy, Maurice Mumford, Floyd Mathews, Vera Nelson, Margaret Jack, Ruth Kettelhut, Leota Savage, Mildred Hulik, Edith Edgar and Eleanor Dodge.

The "Windmills" drew the largest crowd of any program ever given at the High School and "Sylvia" should be even more worth while. Monday, May the eighth is the date.

Ralph James started for Chicago on the 4:54 Monday, and after boarding the train discovered he had left his wallet at home, and had to get off at Loon Lake, where Pitman's truck "picked him up," and brought him back to Antioch.

While four young ladies were trying to fix a blowout on Main street early Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Ford, Mr. _____, who was at the wheel become so interested in a pair of green bloomers that he almost fell out of the car backwards. Thanks to Mrs. _____, who grasped him by the nap of the neck. Names furnished on application only.

When solicited for a prize to be donated for Ford Day event, Doc. Warriner looked over the list and said, "Gee, everybody's giving a prize of $10 in trade, put me down for the same." Can you imagine a prize like that? You can't get the benefit of it until your sick enough to have an M. D., and who the sam hill can enjoy the benefits derived when in that position. "Doc," however, is now giving the prize in regular dough.

The following letter was published in Chi-Trib on Monday, signed by M. H. C., of Antioch:

Antioch, Ill., April 17.—I read your editorial in Saturday's Tribune entitled "Jail the Speeders." Now I think you are quite heartless, for all that needs to be done is to send the speeders out to Antioch. They like speeders out there. Of course no one has been killed there yet, but that will come very soon when they realize that Antioch is a speeders paradise. Would they stop speeding there? They would not! It was tried last summer and the indignant speeders told the "city fathers" that if they couldn't play in their back yard they way they wanted to play they would go and play in some other back yard, so rather than lose the nimble dollar that the speeders threatened to spend in some other town they said, "There, there; it was all a mistake; stay here and speed all you want to." And they did! And they will!

Burglars Enter Lewis & Mallet Drug Store, Waukegan

Burglars entered the Lewis & Mallet drug store at Waukegan Sunday night and escaped with a small amount of money and a number of pencils and fountain pens. Police conducting an investigation this morning found that a bar on the rear door of the drug store had been forced and the door opened. No one was seen leaving the building during the night.

The burglars took the money from the cash register. They also obtained 195 fountain pens valued at from $1.50 to $10 each, and 50 pencils valued from $1 to $6.

When the store was opened Monday morning many of the articles on display in the cases and on the counters were disarranged. An immediate examination disclosed the fact that the money and writing articles had been taken.

Lewis was formerly employed at King's drug store, and is the son-in-law of William Hillebrand, local merchant.

MANY BOOKS ARE DONATED TO LIBRARY

Woman's Club Hopes to Have Large Assortment of Literature for Young and Old

CANDY SALE ON SATURDAY

The ladies of the Library Board are gratified and encouraged by the generous response being made by the public to the request for a book donation to the proposed new library soon to be opened in Antioch. Books are coming in not singly but by fives and sixes and they are good books, splendid books, books of adventure, travel, biography and good fiction. All sorts of standard magazines and periodicals are being pledged and many helpful plans are under way, that insure the success of the effort. Our library will not compare with a Carnegie at first, but "tall oaks from little acorns grow," and he who plants the acorn little knows how tall the oak may grow, if the seed be well and carefully planted.

This library although small will be established upon strictly business principles and in conformity with the rules governing free public libraries everywhere.

The good people of our community are asked to continue bringing in the books. The more we get the better. While you are selecting them don't forget the children—the little children. Remember that the love of good books must be learned in childhood. He who grows to maturity without having learned the companionship and inspiration found in reading good books—never learns. Don't forget the children's books.

To meet the initial expenses—cards, printing and other legitimate demands, the ladies of the library board will offer as first-aid a candy sale—real home made candy—such as is only made by experts. This sale will be held in the lobby of the Crystal theatre, Saturday evening, April 29. Ford Day. Don't miss this sale—the cause is good—the candy will be good—and it surely will be a "sweet place" to go at the end of what we hope will be "A Perfect Day."

The speaker for the next club program, May 1st, is Mr. Ray O. Wayland of Chicago, who will speak to us on a big subject, "America, the Hope of Humanity." Mr. Wayland is Director of Service, United Americans and his work is along the lines of "Americanization," always interesting to true Americans.

He comes to us with the highest recommendations as a speaker and is in great demand among the larger clubs of the state.

Perhaps a quotation or clipping from the Edict's report of "Gentlemen's Evening" of the Lombard's Woman's club held recently, at which Mr. Wayland gave the address of the evening will give an idea of what we may hope to enjoy next Monday afternoon. It reads as follows:

He spoke of the "The Land of Opportunity," the land that has been and still is the world's "promised land." He outlined its past greatness and predicted its future glory. This prophecy of glorious fulfillment he based on three things: America's early settlement by men who came not in search of gold but in search of God; America's steady and ever widening application to the principles of Democracy; Mr. Wyland left with his hearers his own great faith in our country's future.

We extend a cordial invitation to the boys and girls of the High School especially to the boys, to come and hear Mr. Wayland tell you what a wonderful birthright is yours and what it means to be an American.

BASEBALL "9" PLAYS WILMOT NEXT SUNDAY

Antioch's base ball team will open their season against the newly organized Wilmot team at Wilmot next Sunday afternoon. The Antioch team has been practicing for three weeks and are ready to cross bats with any of the best teams in the county. Twenty players have tried out for positions on the local nine, and Manager Tarbell has had much difficulty in selecting the players to start against the strong Wilmot aggregation. Although the line-up is not definite yet, it is probable that the Hook boys will take care of first base and shortstop positions, Mout at second base and Bernie Felds at third base, "Red" Fields will start catching, with either Olson or Ochs on the firing line. Fiala, Burns and Ries are almost certain to start in the outfield.

The first game to be played at Antioch will be staged the following Sunday, with the Opeka club as opponents. It is the intention of the management to have practically all of the games this season played at home, and it will be up to the fans of this vicinity to give them support in order to get the best of competition on the local diamond.

The field this year will be greatly improved over the condition of last year. The playing field will be leveled and the grass removed from the infield. An addition will be built on the grandstand which will enable seating capacity for all the fans.

The team will open the season in their new uniforms, which are of gray with red trimmings, and although Wilmot has the advantage playing one regular game, Antioch is out to get the jump on their newly organized rivals. In last Sunday's game, although defeated by a 4 to 3 score, Wilmot played a wonderful game and Antioch will have to show real base ball to win.

High School in Dual Debate With Libertyville

This evening will occur the annual debate. Arrangements were made for a triangular debate with Antioch, Gurnee and Libertyville participating, but Gurnee was unable to compete this year so that we shall have a dual debate. The affirmative team from Libertyville will be here tomorrow night to meet our negative team, while our affirmative will go to Libertyville.

"The question is 'Resolved, that all the industries of the U. S. should be operated on the principle of the Open Shop.'" This is a labor question that should be of interest to everyone. The debaters have been working hard and no doubt will be able to clarify some doubts regarding unionism.

Those supporting the Open Shop are: Roy Kennedy, Mabel VanDusen, Beulah Drom, Maurice Mumford and Harry Martin.

Those who will remain here and support the Closed Shop are: Margaret Jack, Lydia Wohlfard, Albert Herman, Ardis Grimm and Augusta Adams. Only three will be permitted to speak on each team.

There will be no admission charge and the debate will begin at 8 o'clock. Everybody will be welcome.

Beg Your Pardon

In giving the results of the grade school election in last weeks issue of the News the name of Frank Dunn was overlooked, who received 62 votes. For president of the board, Mr. La Plant received 229 instead of 299. Opposition was light as it was all one sided.

Unclaimed Letters

There remained unclaimed letters at the Antioch postoffice on Monday, April 24, for Edward P. Freede, Mrs. Christina Peterson and A. E. Truman.

BUSINESSMEN WILL HOLD DOLLAR DAY

Slow Race and Economy Race Will Be Biggest Features

VODVIL SHOW AT GARAGE

Several thousand people are expected to witness Antioch's Ford Day celebration and take advantage of the first Dollar Day ever offered by local merchants. Many attractions have been offered to make the day one of pleasure for both young and old. More than $500 in prizes and cash are being offered by Antioch business men to participants in the parade and various events. The registration of cars will be held at the Antioch Sales & Service station between the hours of 10 a. m. and noon, and the celebration will start with the parade at 1 o'clock sharp. Following the parade the "slow race" and the "economy race" will be held. Shortly after these events the program will continue at the Antioch Sales & Service station with several talks on farming and motion pictures.

C. E. Fawcett, of the Ford Motor Co., formerly head of the Milwaukee county agricultural college, will speak on "The Farmer as a Manufacturer," and Geo. Duncomb, of the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, will give a talk on "Soil and Seed Preparation." The motion pictures will be "Corn Cultivating With a Fordson Tractor," "Farm Operations As Done With a Fordson," and "How Seeds Germinate in Various Seed Beds."

One of the biggest features of the day will be a vaudeville troupe, all big theatre artists. These are brought to Antioch at the expense of the Standard Oil Co., through the efforts of the Antioch Sales & Service station. They will give two performances, one in the afternoon and one during the firemen's dance at evening.

Practically every store, both large and small, have many bargains to offer on that day. In some instances goods are marked below wholesale price, and will be to the advantage of the buyer to "stock up."

The volunteer fire department have offered their services for the day to do police duty.

The list of prizes as offered (on the last page) have not been surpassed by any similar event ever held in this vicinity. The man or woman holding the lucky registration number will receive a complete set of Ford tires, donated by The Antioch Sales & Service Station.

The Antioch News can be secured for one year on this day only for $1.00. This applies to renewals as well as new subscribers. Simply pay one dollar and get one year's credit from the time your paper expires, and save fifty cents.

Ziegler Appointed Receiver of 'Queen of the West'

William Ziegler was appointed receiver for the "Queen of the West," Petite Lake resort and summer hotel, by Judge Edwards in the circuit court and filed bonds of $5,000 to operate the resort next summer and to return the money to be paid out on the debts outstanding against the property.

The petition for the appointment of a receiver was filed by Arthur and Elsie Herman against Ned and Anna Bates, the owners of the resort. The Hermans claim that they hold a second mortgage on the place, and that unless a receiver is appointed, they are likely to lose their money.

Urges Antioch to Be Represented at Chicago Pageant of Progress

April 10, 1922.
Dear Sir:
Chicago will have another Pageant of Progress from July 29th to August 14th on the Municipal Pier, sixteen full days, including three Saturdays and Sundays.
Now I have several offers from merchantile concerns to manage a boosters booth at the next exposition on account of my ability and years of past experience in these big undertakings.

But as I anticipate moving back to Antioch and at least four years of studying on rural and community development throughout thirty-nine of the United States, I have yet to find a town that has the future in store, that your so-called village has.

Now if I were to map out the whole program to you, it would mean a letter of many pages, so I will specify in brief outline just what I expect to co-operate with the business men of Antioch on, have given Mr. Wm. Hilebrandt a majority of the details, but I find it necessary to be present at a meeting to make the whole proposition clearer to one and all at the same time.

I want to know if it is possible to get at least twenty good live men together from the town and lakes, form an Antioch Boosters association. Have a booth with auto map, stuffed fish caught in the lakes, artificial lotuses, photographs of spots of interest, hotels, beaches, business houses, automatic sign, a nice big folder to give out, with all the places of business, owned by the men who are contributors to this cause, a nice big ad on same for each, auto map from Chicago to Antioch and too many things to mention. The more we can get into this, the less the expense and the bigger profit to all.

Now gentlemen, all this week here in Chicago is a big conference held by Capital, American Federation of Labor and Building Trades Councils, and at present the outlook is bright, meaning that if the building boom is started, we are all off for a cleanup, and my plan is one big factor in aiding you men to get your share in August and part of September.

I will be willing to come up to Antioch to attend a meeting personally and ask you all to spare an evenings time to attend same and get this thing under way, although I stand pat with the officials of the Pageant on a choice location for a booth, I must get our contract in pretty quick or my selected space will be sold.

I do not want to make a fortune on this gents, I want to turn Antioch into a mint for you and put same on the map as The Biggest Little Town in Illinois. So get together and pick a place and night for this special meeting for next week, talk it over and let me know in a few days.

I remain yours truly,
F. M. WENDORF.

Story of One of the Early Settlers of the Channel Lake District

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rudolph started for America from Prussia, one of the German states in the year 1865. They went on board a sailing vessel at Hamburg. After two weeks of sailing one of their three children was taken sick with the measles and soon died. Food was scarce and they were obliged to feed a six months old baby on black coffee and half cooked oatmeal. Soon every family had one or more sick members and they very seldom recovered. Their other two children died in the course of a few weeks. There were over fifty children on the vessel when they started and when they landed in America very few remained. Some of the adults died also.

When they reached America they were kept on an island until the disease could be checked. They went up the St. Lawrence to Quebec, from there part of the way by rail, and came to Milwaukee on a steamer. Mr. Rudolph traveled through the country on foot from Milwaukee to Bristol to find employment, leaving his wife at Milwaukee. He worked for several farmers and finally he was employed by a man for whom he worked for about two years. They were provided with a small house, a cow and goat.

This man told them of a piece of land near the Fox river that was very fertile and that was covered with heavy timber. Mr. Rudolph purchased fifteen acres and built a small shanty. There was only a small part of this, about an acre in extent, which was not covered with timber. He raised enough oats to help feed his horses. When they settled here there were very few settlers and no good roads, only trails made through the woods in any direction. Mr. Rudolph immediately set to work clearing his land which was almost impassible on account of bushes and vines entwined. He hauled the timber to Richmond, Wilmot and McHenry. One day while at Richmond he saw several Indians.

When the farmers wished to sell grain they were obliged to haul it to Waukegan or Kenosha, receiving very little money for it. After a number of years he purchased another twenty acre tract. He was obliged to haul his lumber from Kenosha to put up some buildings.

The squirrels, coons and other small game were numerous and quite tame. The squirrels and coons would go into the corn crib and when anyone appeared the squirrels would scold while the coons would back away showing their teeth and making fierce sounds. There were quite a few wolves and many foxes, but Mr. Rudolph never molested them except when some of them became too numerous in his corn crib. There was then no school nearby. The mail was brought once a week by a man on horseback. Quite often the roads were impassible for weeks.

Mr. Rudolph did not build a frame

POTATO COOKERY

Potatoes are a common food upon our tables but in the average home are not prepared in enough ways to lend variety to the food.

Potato Soup.—Boil four medium sized potatoes in salted water until soft, then put them through a ricer. Slice one small onion and put it into a quart of milk to scald. Remove the onion and add the milk to the mashed potato. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, cook for two minutes, add to the milk with salt and pepper to taste, boil up one minute and serve sprinkled with parsley.

Spanish Potatoes.—Cook potatoes in salted water until tender. Into the potato dish, which has been heated hot, place two tablespoonfuls each of butter and finely minced onion, salt and pepper to season, using this proportion for six medium-sized potatoes. Cut with a knife, lifting and turning the potatoes so that all are well covered with the butter and onion. Serve very hot with cold boiled tongue sliced.

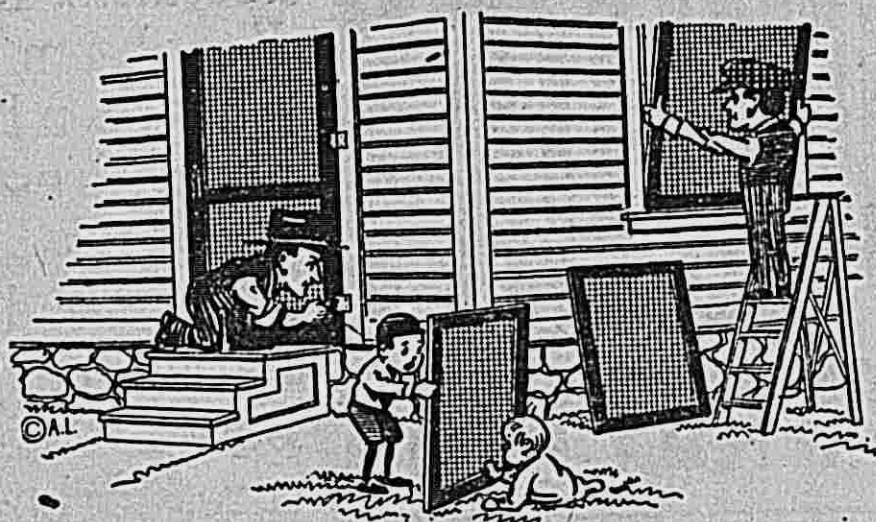

Stuffed Potatoes.—Take six medium-sized long potatoes, bake until done. Cut a slice from the side of each, scoop out the potato, season it with cream, salt, butter; beat until well blended, then add the whites of two eggs beaten until stiff. Refill the skins and bake five to ten minutes in a hot oven. The potato may be sprinkled with cheese, paprika, or parsley before serving.

Franconia Potatoes.—Peel potatoes and cut into quarters, parboil ten minutes, drain and place around the roast an hour before serving time. Baste often to give the potatoes a rich brown color.

Plain boiled potatoes if sliced and carefully fried in butter, keeping the slices whole, is a most attractive manner of serving them.

Pokeweed, common in the South and Middle states, may be served cooked in bunches as one does asparagus, or a soup prepared as any cream soup, will make a most dainty dish.

The Cruel and Unusual. "Ruskin treated Lady Millis when she was Mrs. Ruskin abominably. He was not brutal, he never reproved her. But he kept a diary and every Monday morning he had her up before him and read her a list of all her misdemeanors for every day in the past week." From "The Whistler Journal," by E. H. and J. Envy of Talent.

As to clever people's having each other, I think a little extra talent does sometimes make people jealous. They become irritated by perpetual attempts and failures, and it hurts their tempers and dispositions. Unpretending mediocrity is good, and genius is glorious; but a weak dose of genius in an essentially common person is defensible. It spoils the grand neutrality of a commonplace character, as the tinselling of an unwashed wine glass spoils a draught of fair water. - Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Jud Tunkins.

Jud Tunkins says the reason we see the worst side of so many people is that a man is liable to keep silent when he's happy instead of when he loses his temper.

Simple Swine Sanitation Keep Pigs Free of Worms

By Dr. G. W. Jensen
Methods developed by the United States Department of Agriculture for raising hogs free of worms have proved so successful wherever they have been given a trial, as in McLean county, Illinois, that the department feels no hesitancy in recommending them to all hog raisers in the great corn growing areas of the middle west.

The system recommended by the department is simple, practically the only requirements being a little extra care and labor. Just before the farrowing season it is necessary to clean the farrowing pens thoroughly with hot water and lye, and before the sows are put in all dirt is carefully washed from their skins. Within two weeks after farrowing the sows and litters, which have not been allowed out the pens, are moved to a clean pasture, one that has not held hogs since cultivation. The young pigs, in order to get a good start without worms, must be kept on clean pasture away from wormy hogs yards without contact with other hogs, except the mothers, for at least four months, after which they are past the greatest danger from worms. To be sure, it is necessary to provide proper feed, water and shelter, but that is what any pig should have.

Veterinarians in the department say that pigs infested with worms are noticeably more susceptible to mange, necrobacillosis, and possibly other diseases, than those that are free of them. Both lots of pigs in the government exhibit at the recent International live stock exposition were infested with mange mites, but the worm-free pigs seemed to be highly resistant to their attacks, and in contrast with the wormy pigs showed little evidence of work by the mites.

All swine raisers in the corn belt should find it profitable to adopt this system of swine sanitation, but breeders of pure bred hogs should find it particularly advantageous, for a little gain in size and appearance makes a big difference in the showing and in the sale ring.—U. S. Agricultural Department.

PREPARE SOIL FOR GARDENS

Work Should Begin as Soon as Conditions Will Permit—Cultivate to Conserve Moisture.

In order to have a good garden it is well to prepare the land as soon as the soil conditions will permit, by first plowing the entire area to a depth of 8 to 10 inches, applying stable manure broadcast and harrowing thoroughly until a perfect seedbed is formed. The surface of the unplanted as well as the planted land should be cultivated in order to conserve moisture.

ALSIKE CLOVER FOR FORAGE

Crop is Particularly Well Adapted for Low, Poorly Drained Soil—It Adds Variety.

Alsike clover is especially well adapted for low, poorly drained land on which common red clover refuses to grow to advantage. It does not yield as much forage as red clover on soils that are well adapted for the latter, and, therefore, should not be grown in such places. It should, however, enter into every pasture mixture if for no other reason than to add variety.

Trusts as Ancient as Pyramids. Like many other things supposed to be entirely modern, trusts are by no means new features of life. They are, indeed, at least as ancient as the pyramids. It appears that the earliest form of trust was the cornering of foodstuffs by monarchs and their agents. Assyrian records 7,000 or 8,000 years old give accounts of these monopolistic transactions by tyrannical rulers.

PREPARING PORK TO USE OR SELL

Selling Hogs and Buying Pork Is Not a Profitable Practice for Farmers.

DIFFERENT WAYS OF CURING

Young Animals From 8 to 12 Months Old Are Best for Furnishing Home Meat Supply—Avoid Danger of Disease.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Every farmer can well produce the pork and pork products which are consumed on his farm, for selling hogs and buying pork involves profits, but not to the farmer engaged in the practice. This point is brought out in Farmers' Bulletin 1180, published by the United States Department of Agriculture, which tells how hogs should be killed and describes different methods of curing and canning pork on the farm. Highly nutritious and palatable pork products for home use are easily made, says the bulletin. Pork can be cured and canned in a number of ways and the variety of products affords a supplement to the daily meals.

Young Hogs Yield Best Meat.

A hog of medium condition, gaining rapidly in weight, yields the best quality of meat. A reasonable amount of fat gives juiciness and flavor to the meat, but large amounts of fat are objectionable. Smooth, even, and deeply-fleshed hogs yield nicely-marbled meats. The meat of old hogs will be improved if they are properly fattened before slaughter, but young hogs from eight to twelve months old are best for furnishing the home meat supply.

The bulletin emphasizes especially the importance of selecting only healthy hogs for slaughter and of thoroughly cooking all pork products used for food.

Even if the hog has been properly fed and carries a prime finish, the best quality of meat cannot be obtained if the animal is not healthy. There is always some danger that diseases may be transmitted to the person who eats the meat, particularly if it is not thoroughly cooked.

Hogs Before Killing.

Hogs intended for slaughter should not be kept on full feed up to the time of killing. It is better to hold them entirely without feed for 18 to 24 hours prior to that time, but they should have all the fresh drinking water they want. It is essential to have the proper equipment for rapid and skillful work at killing time. Such equipment includes a straight sticking knife, a cutting knife, a 14-inch steel to keep the knives sharp, a hog hook for holding the animals, a bell-shaped stick scraper, a gambrel for holding the hog to facilitate cleaning and cutting the meat, and a meat saw. If the hog is not too large, a barrel is a convenient receptacle for skinning.

Complete directions for cutting and cleaning a hog, properly rendering the portions of meat, rendering cured meat, and home canning of pork and pork products are described in the bulletin, copies of which can be obtained free on application to the Department of Agriculture.

RIGHT TIME TO PLANT CORN

In Central Corn Belt Seed Planted in April is Slow in Coming Up and Is Not Hardy.

There is a right time to plant corn, and usually the better farmers whether they figure by the calendar, by the size of oak leaves, or by the phases of the moon, in every neighborhood know when that right time comes. It is suggested, however, that more corn is planted too early than too late. Corn is a hot weather plant. In the central corn belt the seed that is planted in April is usually slow in coming up and less hardy than the seed planted about the middle of May. The distribution of rainfall affects the yield, and this varies from season to season, but the corn experts say, and this theory is verified by common experience, that the best yields and most rapid growth may be expected from the medium planting dates.

Waukegan's Atlantic City Now Assured

At a conference held last week in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Waukegan, a tentative agreement was made whereby Waukegan's "Atlantic City" is practically assured.

The Chamber of Commerce is asking permission to take over the old coal dock and bathing beach, and build a $10,000 dance hall, concession booths and operate the entire summer amusement park on the lake front. It was decided that unless the Women's club who have built and maintained a bath house near the site object to the proposal, the Chamber will be allowed to go ahead with their plans. It is understood that the arrangement will not be made for profit but all receipts from the concessions shall go back into the fund for the improvement of the bathing beach and dance hall.

The only possible obstruction left for the lease to be given the Chamber of Commerce is the objection of the Women's club. It is not believed that they will stop the erection of the amusement park. Strict rules for the dance floor will be insisted upon, and no dancing in bathing suits will be permitted. The Chamber of Commerce will arrange for strict supervision, and will allow no variance in the rules of convention because the dance hall is to be built upon the lake shore.

Votes of British Parliament Chiefs.

The difference between the speaker of the English house of commons and the lord chancellor, who occupies a similar position in the house of lords, is that while the speaker cannot take part in debates and can vote only when there is a tie, the lord chancellor is entitled to speak and vote on all occasions.

Patagonia.

Patagonia consists of the territories of Rio Negro, Chubut and Santa Cruz in Argentina. Formerly Patagonia was applied to the whole southern portion of South America. The name may be derived from the Spanish word patagon, meaning a large foot, alluding to the footprints found by early explorers, or it may come from the Quichua word patacuna meaning terraces.

Obituary

Mrs. Emma Volbrecht

Emma Muelling was born in Pomerania, Germany, on October 18, 1828, and passed from this life at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Collison, in Richmond, Ill., on April 10, 1922, having lived to the advanced age of 83 years.

When a young girl she came to this country and for a number of years lived at Burlington, Wis., where in November, 1863, she was united in marriage to William Volbrecht. For many years they lived near Antioch, where Mr. Volbrecht died in November, 1908.

For the past four years Mrs. Volbrecht has been tenderly cared for at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Collison.

In early life Mrs. Volbrecht embraced the religion of her forefathers and in the pathway she traveled unflinchingly until the end.

Funeral services were held at the home on Tuesday afternoon conducted by Rev. J. A. Frenzel, pastor of the Park Row Lutheran church, of Lake Geneva, and interment was in the Antioch cemetery.

Miss Bird Hodge, accompanied by Mrs. Willis Gardner, sang several appropriate selections.

Mrs. Volbrecht is the last of a large family of brothers and sisters to pass to the great beyond.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hulda Collison and Mrs. John Harm, of Richmond, and three sons, Frederick, of Bassett, William, of Wilmet, and Paul, of Antioch, also nine grandchildren.

Mrs. George Helier Died at Salem

With her husband and three children she came to America in 1874. They came direct to Salem which has since been her home. She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters, Mrs. Chas. Lake County Conference at Highland Pk. Sat.

Eloquent speakers have been secured for the Third Annual Young People's Conference of Lake County which will be held in Highland Park Presbyterian church all day Saturday, April 29.

Preston G. Orwig is associate superintendent of the Young People's division in the International Sunday School association. He will present organized class and department work, have charge of the recreational period and deliver the closing challenging address to the boys' section. It is unusual for an International worker to go to a county conference. Lake County is fortunate in having secured Preston B. Orwig. Mrs. H. C. Northcott will deliver several addresses to the girls at the conference. She has been on conference programs all over the state of Illinois and is sure to be an appealing speaker before the girls. Rev. C. H. McCrea, D. D., editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, will deliver an inspirational address in the afternoon session. Rev. S. B. Edmondson, pastor of the Lake Forest M. E. church will also be on the program. He is a speaker who grips the hearts of young people. Some of Lake county's most outstanding young people will also have their place on the program. There should be a large crowd of young people to greet this array of talent.

Ravages by Rats.

It has been estimated that the economic loss from rats in the United States is $200,000,000 a year. In other estimates before the war, the annual damage in the United Kingdom was $70,000,000. As a carrier of bubonic plague and other diseases, the rat is charged with the loss of more human lives than all the wars in history.

Birds in the Dark.

Not a few birds practically rear their nestlings in the dark, says the American Forestry Magazine. Well-known examples of this are seen in sand-martins and kingfishers—birds that dig, or scrape out, long burrows in banks, and lay their eggs at the farther end of them.

Parent-Teachers' Program

A pleasing program, given under the auspices of the Patron-Teachers' association, was held at the local hall last Tuesday night. Mrs. R. Ihlenfeldt started the entertainment with instrumental music. "Foiled by Heck" proved to be a very laughable burlesque and the act was very well received. Violet Beck as their daughter Irene entered into the spirit of the sketch with great zest. Arthur Panknin as Clarence Codd, the hero, was exceptionally good. Vera Schuelke carried a difficult role through with ease when she took the part of Olivia de LaVere. Lynne Sherman as the deep-eyed villain, Sylvester Brewster, got many a hand when his "wicked plots" were "foiled again by Heck."

Little Natalie Cafferty, of Kenosha, was a veritable sunbeam as she flitted about the stage in the dance of the sunbeams. Mrs. Galbraith, of Kenosha, accompanied her at the piano. Clarence Wright accompanied by Mrs. Ihlenfeldt, gave two very well rendered trombone selections. Especially his interpretation of O Solo Mio appealed to the audience.

The last number was a short sketch "Is He In," featuring George Dowell and his son Dwain. Special mention will have to be made of their clever acting and they proved a very popular attraction.

A dance with music by the Gump orchestra followed the program.

Friday night, May 5, Dr. Turner, district superintendent of Janesville, will speak at the local M. E. church. Dr. Turner is a very gifted speaker and worthy of the complement of a large audience. There will be no admission to the lecture but a free will offering will be taken up during the evening.

Rev. Buenger, of Kenosha, will read the marriage service for Frank Schramm, of Richmond, and Hazel Beck, of this village, when they are married Wednesday, May 3. The wedding is to be held at the parish house in Kenosha. The bride is to have a rainbow wedding and her attendants will be Violet Beck, Elizabeth Richards and Matilda Richards. The groomsmen are to be George Morris, Harold Reed and William Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Meyers, of Racine, are entertaining at a miscellaneous shower for Hazel Beck, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Faulkner motored to Lake Geneva Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Harrison.

Mrs. E. Wheeler, of Evanston, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lewis this week.

Mrs. W. Lewis entertained a number of friends in honor of Mrs. Bourse, of Milwaukee, Tuesday afternoon.

How Camp Lake Was Named

The Raymonds of the Camp Lake hotel are making some very radical changes about the hotel and grounds in preparation for this summer's guests. The screening of the long verandas and the redecoration of the cottage rooms, hotel parlors, bed rooms and dining rooms will be an added advantage for the comfort and desirability of the hotel. The management has issued a very clever folder telling of the charms of the locality and giving a map of the best auto and rail routes. A composite picture of the lake, lawns and building ideally portrays the beauty of the spot while the old Indian legend of the discovery of the lake is of historical interest to all in the vicinity, as well as the receivers of the folders.

This tradition has descended to the living sons and daughters of that band of pioneers who were lured by wonderful stories of a certain lake—set in a valley in a far-off land of plenty—in the west and virgin region that the Pottawatomies were ceding—near a century ago.

Marching west with faces westward, travel worn and often tempted, but at no time deviating from the goal that lay ahead, they pressed on toward the Great Lake; on around its southern border; on, again, from Old Fort Dearborn, north, then west, three score of miles and, lo, the lake was won.

Almost at the hour of sundown they came out upon headland, after known as "Sunset Hill"—and there, around them spread a landscape fair beyond their fondest dreams. Three bright lakes were just below them shimmering in the evening rays, farther off, more pools of silver flecked a lovely fertile valley, undulating hills and shadows, stretched away along a river, winding in and out of sight, in the distance, other hill tops merging into gorgeous skies.

Thus they found the land of promise, chose their lake, and planned their homesteads, made their homes, and spent their lives.

The name—Camp Lake—the Indians gave it, or the Algonquian tongue, for it had ever been the custom of these restless, roving redmen there to break their journeys always, there to come at certain seasons, there to congregate and linger, undisturbed upon its shores.

Their Great Spirit had that purpose, had omitted no essential, in creating this retreat. Stately groves down to the water, high, dry ground to make their camps on, soft, green sward to tread and lie on, clear, cool springs of healing waters, rich and fruitful vegetation, while the hunting, fishing, trapping, let no more they could desire.

Dedicate New Ball Park

The Wilmot Base Ball club opened up their new ball park Sunday afternoon with at least a thousand fans present. The day was perfect for an afternoon out-of-doors and the crowd overflowed the grandstand and the natural amphitheatre that surrounds the diamond was black with cars and people. The Wilmot band, in white uniforms, marched in formation to the grounds and under the leadership of Clarence Wright the U. F. H. school boys entertained the crowd royally between innings.

The Wilmot team lost their opening game 4 to 3. Wilmot had numerous chances to win the game, but poor base running tossed away several opportunities. Edgar pitched excellent ball for Wilmot allowing only five hits and striking out thirteen men, but his support failed him on numerous occasions. Fiest, of Somers, pitched consistently throughout the contest and was given good support by his teammates. The line up:

Wilmot		Somers
Edgar	pitcher	C. Fiest
Pfeiffer	catcher	Burch
R. Hegeman	1st base	Netherbal
Brasky	2nd base	Richter
Sparrow	3rd base	Thomas
Boyle	Shortstop	Wyres
Robinson	left field	B. Fiest
Mercile	center field	Rider
L. Hegeman	right field	L. Fiest

Roland Hegeman was severely cut Sunday evening when walking through a room at his store in the dark he brushed against a chair holding several pieces of plate glass.

MARATHON'S HERE

Good Bye Wear

THE fact that distribution has been established locally for Marathon Motor Oils is GOOD NEWS for the automobile and truck owner.

The Lubrication of the automotive engine is a serious problem. SERVICE AND SAFETY demand that FRICTION AND WEAR be reduced to a minimum.

Merely "oiling" your car will not accomplish this result—it must be properly lubricated.

MARATHON MOTOR OILS are scientifically prepared, under the direction of Lubrication Engineers, to meet a given mechanical condition. They are marketed on a basis of GUARANTEED RESULTS by the Transcontinental Oil Company, an organization substantially able to fulfill its obligations.

We are ready to serve you with Marathon Lubrication.

First to establish the $10.90 price—"Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x3½ 'Usco' is $10.90." The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value.

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price field (now that the season promises business from the American car-owner), it is worth remembering that "Usco" showed its good faith by announcing this price last fall.

The same intent to serve that has made "Usco" a standard value for years.

The "Usco" Tire was never better than it is today—with its established quality, its time-tested performance, and its price closely figured in tune with the times.

SUCCESSFUL TOMATO GROWING DESCRIBED

Bulletin Gives Different Methods Used in Industry.

Much Depends on Good Farm Practices, Seeds, Plants, Fertilizer, Planting, Cultivation and Thorough Spraying.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

About 2½ quarts of canned tomatoes is the yearly per capita consumption in the United States, according to figures of the United States Department of Agriculture. How the tomato is grown, put up, and shipped, together with practices followed in communities where its cultivation is highly specialized, are given in Farmers' Bulletin No. 1283, recently issued, copies of which may be obtained free of charge upon application to the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

Hardy Tomato Plant Started in Pot.

ton, D. C. The bulletin also contains valuable suggestions to growers as to methods which are profitably followed where the crop is most successful.

The story of the tomato is that of a delicacy which has lived down a bad name and come into its own after years of effort. Of American origin, it attracted unfavorable attention first about 1800, and for a long time was branded as poisonous and consequently avoided. Later, designated as the love apple, it found favor with a few lovers of delicacies and with growers. By 1887 the total pack of canned tomatoes in the United States was about 3,000,000 cases of 24 one-quart cans each. Now the commercial pack, exclusive of soups, purees, ketchup, and pulp exceeds 10,000,000 cases of 24 No. 3 cans. These figures do not include the millions of cans put up by housewives for home consumption or the fresh tomatoes which grace American tables during the growing season.

Chief among the states where tomatoes are raised for canning are, in order named: Maryland, Indiana, Missouri, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Utah, Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia. The acreage planted in tomatoes for canning purposes only in 1920 was 244,745. The yield from that acreage was 1,003,358 tons.

The bulletin follows the methods used from the seed to the can, describes methods of planting, soils best adapted for the vegetable's growth, tells how the crop may best be harvested, and sums up the chief requirements for good results as follows:

"Successful tomato growing depends on good farm practices, good seed, good plants, proper fertilizer, careful planting, clean cultivation, and disease control through spraying and through the use of disease-resistant varieties. Growers who pay attention to these factors produce crops which give them satisfactory returns."

GOOD EMERGENCY FEED CROP

Sudan Grass Is Rapidly Replacing Millet in Many States—Useful Summer Pasture.

Sudan grass is admirably adapted for use as an emergency hay crop, and is rapidly supplanting millet in many states. It is being used successfully by thousands of farmers as a summer pasture. For this purpose there are few crops that give better returns and serve so well to supplement the permanent pastures and the feed lot.

FEED CROPS ARE CONVENIENT

May Not Bring In Much Money, But They Take Care of Animals Which Can Be Sold.

Feed crops may not bring much cash but they are very convenient to take care of the animals. The animals may be converted into cash or the products from animals such as milk, cream, etc. It is not an easy matter to produce too much feed. It is hoped that the money generally paid out for feed will be kept at home this year.

GIVE SOY BEANS ATTENTION

Crop Should Not Be Overlooked by Progressive Farmer in Adjusting Corn Acreage.

Soy beans should not be overlooked by the progressive farmer in the re-adjustment of his corn acreage. They require careful attention like corn, but they will make his decreased acreage of corn worth more money. It is a high protein, high oil crop in one.

POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK IS OBSERVED

May 1 Sees Inaugurated First General Campaign of Kind in Service.

Without the Postal Service, business would languish in a day, and be at a standstill in a week. Public opinion would die of dry rot. Sectional hatred or prejudice only would flourish, and narrow-mindedness thrive.

It is the biggest distinctive business in the world and it comes nearer to the innermost interests of a greater number of men and women than any other institution on earth. No private business, however widespread, touches so many lives so often or sharply; no church reaches into so many souls, flutters so many pulses, has so many human beings dependent on its ministrations.

"Postal Improvement Week" has been set for May 1, by the Postmaster General. This is the first general campaign of its kind in the Postal Service for several decades. Business men and their organizations, large users of the mail, newspapers, motion pictures, advertisers, and the entire organization of 300,000 postal workers are to be enlisted in a country-wide campaign of interest in postal improvements. Your help is vital. Address your letters plainly with pen or typewriter. Give street address. Spell out name of State, don't abbreviate. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner of envelope (not on the back) and always look at your letter before dropping in the mail to see if it is properly addressed. This care in the use of the mails is for your benefit and speeds up the dispatch and delivery of mail matter.

If you have any complaints of poor service make them to your postmaster. He has instructions to investigate them and report to the department.

COURTESY

It sticks in human relations like postage stamps on letters. The POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT expects it to be used by its postmasters and employees in dealing with the public.

Help them in its use beginning with POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK, May 1-6, 1922.

WILD BIRDS DESTROY INJURIOUS INSECTS

Worth at Least $400,000 Annually to Farmers.

Establishment of Community Refuges Throughout Country Is on Increase—Useful Suggestions Given in Bulletin.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The work of wild birds in the destruction of injurious insects is worth at least $400,000,000 annually to the American farmer and horticulturist, and in recognition of their valuable aid and charm, and to encourage their presence, the establishment of community bird refuges throughout the country, on farms, bird preserves, and elsewhere, is increasing. Useful suggestions for the establishment and maintenance of community bird refuges are contained in Farmers' Bulletin 1230, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, a copy of which may be obtained free from the department at Washington, D. C.

The Blackbird's Colign of Vantage.

"On the average there are in the United States only about two birds to the acre, but where they are protected and encouraged it has been demonstrated that a very great increase over the normal bird population can be secured. No fewer than 50 pairs to the acre is the number reached in the most successful of these attempts reported. Valuing the services of birds at 10 cents each—an estimate ridiculously low, but used to insure a safe minimum—the birds of the United States prevent an increase in the annual damage done by insects of more than $400,000,000.

"A particular farm may not have so large a bird population as it should, and therefore may not be deriving the benefit, which is its due. The most effective means of increasing the number of birds is protection, and protection in its best sense is afforded by the establishment of bird refuges."

A bird refuge may be established in a small way on a farm or through a co-operative bird preserve. In the latter case, the plan has proved popular and successful as a means of establishing colonies of game birds, such as pheasants.

"In creating a useful bird refuge," says the bulletin, "the first step is to insure adequate protection against all bird enemies; the second, to see that plenty of nesting sites suited to the needs of the various birds are available; and the third, to improve food and water supplies, if necessary." Bird refuges also may be established along roadways and right-of-ways, with particularly attractive and beneficial results.

"Hardly an agricultural pest escapes the attacks of birds," says the bulletin. "The alfalfa weevil has 45 different bird enemies; the army worm, 43; billbugs, 67; cotton boll-weevil, 66; brown-tail moth, 31; chestnut weevil, 64; chinch bug, 24; clover-root borer, 38; clover weevil, 25; codling moth, 30; cotton worm, 41; cutworms, 93; forest tent caterpillar, 32; gipsy moth, 46; horseflies, 49; leaf-hoppers, 120; orchard tent caterpillar, 43; potato beetle, 25; rice weevil, 21; seventeen-year locust, 33; twelve-spotted cucumber beetle, 28; white grubs, 67, and wireworms, 108."

Dams Are British Monument.

While the Nile is the source of all life in Egypt, it is also the source of a great danger. If the flood fails to reach a certain point famine results; if it passes another point the country is ruined by floods. In olden days when there was a superabundance of water one year the farmer could only build a few dykes and pray to Allah for the best; if next year there was a shortage of water—well, it was Allah's will. Britain changed all that with its wonderful system of dams.

Beginning of "Oil Age."

The "oil age" of the United States dates from 1858-59, when George H. Bissell and Prof. Benjamin Silliman, Jr., of Yale analyzed crude oil and determined its value for illumination, and Edwin L. Drake drilled a well at Titusville, Pa., and produced the oil in quantity. Long before that it had been used in various communities where it was skimmed from creeks and pools as a household remedy for colds, burns, rheumatism, sore throat and other ailments.

Lake County Fair Association Announces Dates of 69th Annual Pageant—Sept. 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8

At a meeting of officers, directors and patrons of the Lake County Fair at the Farm Bureau headquarters, Libertyville, steps were taken and plans formulated toward putting over on September 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 (day and night show,) the sixty-ninth annual pageant of agricultural progress.

It is going to be the same old fair—it gets bigger and better all the time, but the only change is in the dress of the customers, the horses go a little faster; people grab for the same brass rings on the merry-go-round they grabbed at fifty years ago. But the flying jenny has been improved by a painted mechanism which makes the painted horses actually race.

The fair starts off with a thrill on Labor Day and all through the first week in September the fastest harness racing on the fastest half-mile track, automobile and horse shows, big live stock and agricultural exhibits, household displays, and many first class attractions will be the last word in making Lake County's Great Million Dollar Exposition all a big community movement can possibly be made to represent.

Mr. W. I. Woddin, president and

Mr. John G. Wirtz, secretary, both farmers, are out to give the public what they are always looking for—the best to be had. They are cognizant of the city man's regard of Lake county's reputation of being Chicago's door step and has not been overshadowed in the public eye by the skyscrapers of Michigan boulevard, and the smoke stacks of gigantic factories. These men are out to attract the city folks to our fair the same time our home folks are getting more for their money than they have ever received before. At this big bargain counter of pleasure and education everybody is going to flock around and get thrills enough and more to keep all of us going until still another fair rolls round and the styles and dress may change, the same crowds we have always had will be back again for more.

Plans for the best premium list and hand book are under way right now, while a snappy campaign for twenty-five hundred new memberships is already under way and making real progress.

Boost your fair, buy a membership, advertise in the year book and exhibit some of your fine stock and household prize winners, thereby making the sixty-ninth anniversary a real American Beauty.

The Peacock.

The common domestic peacock is a native of India and Ceylon. It was regarded by the ancients as the attribute of Juno, and in Christian art is a symbol of the resurrection. In modern simile it is the type of vain glory. In a wild state the peacock is an extremely shy bird, frequenting mostly the lower elevations and mountain slopes. The peacock does not thrive in extremely cold climates.

Objected to Pairing.

The first known instance of pairing in the congress of the United States was in 1840. John Quincy Adams prepared a resolution declaring that it violated the constitution, an express rule of the house, and the duties of both parties. The resolution was never voted upon and the practice became very common.

Climate and Deafness.

It is curious to note how deaf mutism varies in different countries. In Switzerland, for instance, owing to the prevalence of cretinism, 245 per 100,000 of the inhabitants suffer from it, whereas the general average among European countries is 70, and in the United States, 68, per 100,000.

Jordan Now at Pre-War Price

$1795

F. O. B. CLEVELAND

Jordan prices are down to pre-war levels.

People who have always admitted Jordan leadership—but have put up with smaller cars—are now buying Jordans.

Many a man who formerly felt it necessary to pay a high price and get a heavy car, to obtain reliability, has turned to the Jordan.

It combines quality with light weight and perfect balance.

Jordan knew that henceforth cars would compete, not alone in price, but in service. Service is what really defines value. Success gave him the courage to build a vastly better car.

The new Jordan is the lightest on the road for its wheelbase—and the best balanced. THAT'S ECONOMY.

The body is hung low. Cushions are deep. There is no side sway—no jerky up and down vibrations. AND THAT'S COMFORT.

There's plenty of thrill in the exclusive Jordan motor—a silent forceful "wallop" THAT'S CONFIDENCE.

Jordan national economy average 24.1 miles per gallon. 18,000 to 20,000 miles for tires. High resale value. Low repair cost. THAT'S THRIFT.

Spring shackles don't talk back as they so frequently do on ordinary cars. SUNDAY SERVICES:

Sunday School 9:45
Morning Service 11:00
Epworth League 7:00
Evening Service 7:45

The contest between the Reds and the Blues in the Epworth league is developing much enthusiasm and greatly increasing activity. Some new applications for membership.

The Sunday school is welcoming some new members.

The regular services last Sunday were full of inspiration, with good music and vital themes for consideration.

The morning discourse contained these points:

Different levels of life on which people live depend on their knowledge of and obedience to God. And one of the most vital laws for obedience is God's financial law of the tithe.

The lowest levels of savage and barbarian life show the habit of making offerings to their deities; but no regularity, no rule, no system, no definite proportion of income set apart for religion.

But so soon as we reach the level of any real civilization, anywhere in history, there we find not only offerings to God (or Gods), but always the law of one tenth of income for religious uses. This among all civilized nations of antiquity, even though they were pagan.

Among the ancient Jews, this law was held very strictly, and they developed a civilization which went far beyond the tithe and devoted more than two-tenths to religious uses.

When christianity was ushered in, a new day of higher civilization came, and correspondingly larger proportion of the income devoted to the Kingdom of God. The early christians paid their tithes strictly, but they also made numerous and very large offerings for religious and charitable work. Thousands gave a very large part of their possessions, and some even sacrificed their whole fortune.

When, after a few hundred years, paganism crept into the church, many of the most vital realities of the Christian religion were lost to the masses of the people. The law of the tithe was one of those realities lost to great numbers, but never lost to all God's people.

We know that with this partial paganizing of the church, came about a thousand years of spiritual ignorance and groping, known in history as the dark ages. God always had a few real enlightened christians, but the masses were in spiritual darkness.

Then, finally came Luther and the other reformers, and later, the Wesleyans and their companions, and the great new days of the restoration of real and full fledged christianity was begun. It has not progressed very far yet, but is coming now. And just now, the great truth of the tithe is coming back and hundreds of thousands all over the world have looked into God's word and found the law and are now obeying it.

The evening service showed that those who obey God's law of the tithe always find their financial prosperity increased. God always blesses obedience in kind. Political obedience brings political blessing. Physical obedience brings the blessing of physical health. Spiritual obedience brings spiritual blessings from him. Just so, financial obedience to God always brings financial blessing from him. That is clearly as it ought to be; it is what God has definitely promised and emphasized over and over in his word; and it is the experience of hundreds of thousands who have tried it. No one has ever been found obeying God's laws and paying his tithes faithfully who was not most prosperous financially after he began obeying this law than before.

Strength in Proportion.

It is impossible to name the strongest animal since some of the smallest insects have more strength in proportion to their weight than the very largest animals. An ant, for instance, may carry a load fifteen or twenty times its own weight, while an elephant could scarcely drag twice its weight.

WEEDS AND BUGS DESTROY CROPS

Best Time to Kill Garden Enemies Is Before They Appear in the Spring.

CULTIVATION IS GREAT AID

Cutworms, Potato Bugs, Flea Beetles and Plant Lice Are Most Troublesome Insects—Some Excellent Control Measures.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Weeds and insects are garden enemies, and the time to kill both is before they appear.

Careful stirring of the soil destroys the little weed seedlings just after the seeds have sprouted. Likewise, cultivation keeps the garden in such shape that insects do not find a hiding place, and are not so liable to injure the garden crops. However, insects are almost sure to attack certain of the garden crops and it will be necessary to take precautions against them. Cutworms, potato bugs, flea beetles, and plant lice are the most troublesome garden insects. Do not give them a chance to get started.

The common cutworm does its work during the night, cutting off the plants just below the surface of the soil within a day or two after they are set in the garden. One of the best ways to prevent this injury is to surround the stem plant with a tube made of stiff paper or light cardboard, extending an inch or so below the ground and two or three inches above. These collars, or cutworm protectors, can be removed after the danger of injury is past—generally not until about 30 days after the plants are set in the ground.

When Potato Bugs Appear.

The old-fashioned Colorado potato beetle, or "hard shells," come out of the ground usually when the potatoes are about four or five inches high. These beetles themselves do not do a great amount of harm except that they lay clusters of yellow eggs on the under der side of the potato leaves. In a few days these eggs hatch into soft-shell beetles or slugs as they are sometimes called. In the soft shell, or slug form the potato beetle has an enormous appetite and a colony of them will soon strip the foliage from a hill of potatoes.

Hand picking is perhaps the best method of getting rid of the hard-shell beetles. They may be killed by either crushing them or dropping them into boiling water. The slugs or soft-shell beetles cannot be gathered to so good advantage, but they may be poisoned by sprinkling the plants, while the dew is upon them, with a mixture consisting of a heaping teaspoonful of Paris green to a pint of air-slacked lime or land plaster. The easiest method of applying the mixture is to place it in a cheese cloth or thin burlap bag and dust the plants by shaking the bag directly over them. It is not necessary to apply the poison to all the plants, but only where the bugs have made their appearance. The plants should be inspected every day or two to see that the bugs are not getting a start.

Flea Beetles Eat Holes.

Flea beetles are small insects that eat round holes similar to shot holes in the leaves of beans, tomatoes, and a number of other garden crops. They can be poisoned with the mixture of Paris green and lime referred to for potato beetles, or they can be driven away by dusting the plants with fine road dust, air-slacked lime, or with very dry, powdery, sifted coal ashes.

Plant lice are more difficult to control, as they do not eat the leaves, but stick their beaks into the leaves and suck the juices. They are rather difficult to control, as they are found mainly on the under side of the leaves. One remedy is to spray with some form of tobacco extract or nicotine sulphate, using about one teaspoonful in a gallon of water in which there has previously been dissolved a one-inch cube of laundry soap. The mixture should be thoroughly stirred and applied underneath the leaves especially, using some form of sprayer or atomizer that will create a fine mist.

If the gardener finds some insect with which he is not acquainted he should write to the extension division of his state college of agriculture.

It is the psychology of youth turning into manhood

Ramsey Milholland

By Booth Tarkington

One's first impression is of a very strange, intensely reserved, almost stupid boy. Reading on we see the author's purpose. We witness the actual unfolding of a character and the development of that slow but clear thinking which makes for irrefutable logic and unalterable decisions.

There is a girl, brilliant in the extreme, who by the malicious jests of fate, is made constantly to hamper and outshine the boy. Finally we see her character yielding to, reshaped and eventually remade, by the sterner qualities of the boy.

Told with all of Tarkington's insight into the mind and heart of youth and with all his genius for depiction, narrative and humor. One of his best stories.

Birds as Weather Prophets.

At least some birds are good weather prophets. The green woodpecker is known in some parts of this country as the "rain bird" because his laughing cry so often precedes a down-pour. The misselthrush, again, has gained the name of "storm cock," because he sings before wind and rain.

"A Wide Open Town" to Be Ford Day Feature

Conway Tearle, star of "A Wide Open Town," has always been greatly admired by photoplay devotees for the reason that he is rarely, if ever, seen in the idyllic roles which are so often entrusted to male stars. In "A Wide Open Town," the character he portrays is one which will appeal to every man and woman who has learned from bitter experience that expected perfection in human nature scarcely ever materializes. It is a typical Tearle characterization in that the star stands out first and foremost as an actor and not so much because a kind providence has given him a comely face and figure and the intelligence and training to wear his clothes well. The direction of the picture is by Ralph Ince, whose work for the Selznick company has recently been attracting unusual attention, and will be shown at the Crystal on Saturday, April 29.

State Dept. Denies Laxity of Sending Auto License Plates

Springfield, Ill.,—Emphatic denial was made by Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson, of statements in an article which has appeared recently in some of the downtown newspapers to the effect that the automobile department is or has been swamped with applications and is behind in sending out license plates. The report, the secretary believes, was inspired in the first place by persons anxious to find an excuse for their delinquency in securing license plates, and it has been reprinted through ignorance of the real conditions.

"The article states that the automobile department is a month behind in sending out plates," Secretary Emmerson said today. "As a matter of fact, the department is right up to the minute in sending out plates and from the first day of the new year applications have been attended to on the day they were received."

"To date, a total of 553,000 licenses have been issued. This is 60,000 more than were issued during the same period last year."

"In other words, we are a month ahead of last year's mark, and that was the banner year up to that time. During the rush season more than 10,000 licenses were issued and the plates mailed out each day. Every application has received attention on the day it reached the department."

"For several weeks, a force of inspectors from my office, armed with authority to arrest delinquents, has been scouring the state in an effort to force those who have not applied for licenses to send in their applications at once."

"The article in question is likely to interfere with this work. For that reason I hope that this denial will be given the widest publicity. There is absolutely no excuse for the man who is operating his car without a 1922 license. At any time since January 1 he could have had new plates on his car within three days at most from the time he mailed his application."

"There was once a time when the automobile department annually was several weeks behind in filling orders, but that time is past. The department is organized now so that it can carry the peak load with the promptness and efficiency of a carefully managed business institution."

Tragedy Ended Youthful Love.

When I was eight years old I had a beau. One day he gave me a ring, which I prized very much. When I was at his house one day his mother saw the ring. She had been looking all over for it. Needless to say I gave her the ring and she gave Johnny something. That ended my first love affair.—Chicago Journal.

Famous Musicians.

A London writer calls attention to the fact that the names of many composers begin with B. He notes Bach, Beethoven, Baz, Bliss, Bridge, Berners, Brahms, Berlioz, Borodine, Balfe, Bennett, Bellini, Bantock, Bizet, Bishop, Brunnau, Boccherini, Balakireff, Boyce, Busoni, Byrd and Bull.

COUNTRY CHAFF

The following poetry was written by Frank Hooper and published in one of early editions of The Antioch News and is reprinted at the request of J. Cribb

There may be a Village of comfort and bliss,
There may be others but it isn't this;
Some may grow peaches, and tropical flowers,
Our's simply grows older, through Ruben's powers.

Ruben may be allright in their place,
But for running a Village, they show poor taste;
For the weeds still grow beneath their feet,
And scatter their seeds through the village streets.

O you Rubes, moss covered and gray,
How much longer do you expect to stay?
You gossip around from morn to night;
But accomplish nothing that turns out right.

Who shall we look to, who is to blame?
Is it the Marshal? well he gets the name,
It's simply the custom, by which we are bound,
Allowing the Rubes to manage the town.

They have lead us a chase for several years past,
And the first year they served, looks much like the last,
Their desires for improvements, are not to be seen;
But we hope when they die, their graves will be kept clean.

The puddles of water, which stand in the street
Shows for itself that the Town Board is neat;
You can swim out O'Grady or walk way round,
For a man with a shovel is hard to be found.

Look at the Clerk, jolly old soul,
He faces the Rubes with countenance bold.
Read the motion again says Ruben Pipe,
I don't just get the question right.

The Superintendent of water works,
Closes his speel, on bursts, and squirts,
Then bores the Rubes with estimates;
Of Railroad bridges, and the cost it makes.

Now Ruben Wise has heard of a case,
Where a village owned a watering place,
Well by heck, says Ruben Thistle,
Do horses really wet their whistle?

Our fire hydrants, we certainly praise,
And would be very handy, in case of a blaze;
But to screw off a cap and couple on hose,
Is shy of a fitting, no Ruben knows.

The hose is quite essential, and not hard to hustle,
If it wasn't for ice filled up to its nozzle;
Like everything else you don't bare in mind,
But leave it to Rubes of the most simple kind.

Now look at the Bell in it's garb of steel,
Way out of town in Ruben's corn field;
The reason for this is sad to relate,
It's too loud a bell to hang up town late.

On a little lone spot, on a forlong forget,
Stands the tower erect and quite airy.
But the people all say, and curse the day,
They raised a Monument to Ruben Hair.

Another bright stunt, we must mention the fact,
For locating a fire house, the dubs have a nact.
At the bottom of the hill, and back out of sight,
Say—that's handy Rubes, especially at night.

Well—flowers may bloom and birds may sing,
Keep on Rubes, muddle everything.
Where ignorance is bliss it's folly to be wise,
We'll take for granted your a bright bunch of guys.

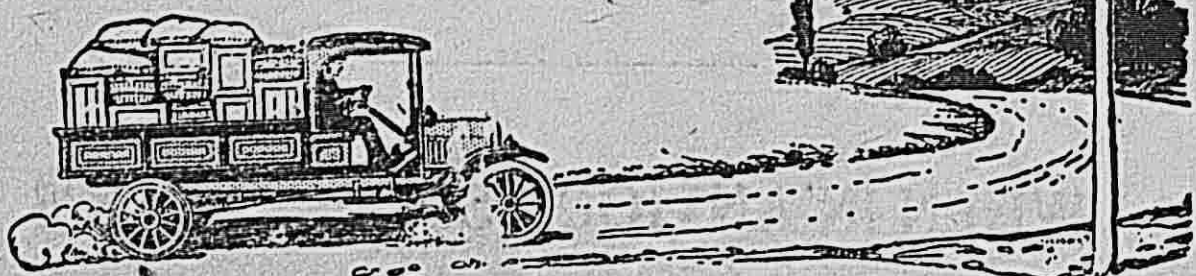

There is one thing, however, you all agree quick,
Permission to run Town slop in the creek.
Your Board of Health office is rot to the core,
No doubt you have been told of this fact before.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

During all the years the Ford Model T One Ton Truck has been on the market, we have never had one complaint of rear axle trouble. We have had no complaints of motor trouble. As the motor and the rear axle are the vital fundamentals in a motor truck, we have the right to conclude that the Ford One Ton Truck has not only met the demands of business, but has done so in a satisfactory and economic way. There is no other evidence so convincing as that which comes from long practical experience. Ford One Ton Trucks are serving along all industrial and commercial lines. You will find them everywhere. If these statements were not facts, the demand for the Ford One Ton Truck would not be as large as it is, because people are not buying trucks which do not give service. Coupled with the dependability of the Ford One Ton Truck in all classes of usage, comes the economy in operation and maintenance. On the farm, in factory delivery, for the merchant, manufacturer, and contractor, in these days of modern business methods, this worm-driven One Ton Ford Truck has become an actual necessity. Chicago Milk Producers Meet April 18

The first meeting of the committee representing the different factions of the producers in the Chicago milk marketing territory will be held in Chicago next Tuesday in the offices of the American Farm Bureau Federation. This committee will meet to iron out the differences and difficulties which have arisen in the Chicago territory.

The committee as chosen from names suggested by representatives of producers is as follows:

C. V. Gregory, Wheaton; H. C. Hemmingway, Janesville, Wis.; C. Larsen, Illinois Agricultural Association, Chicago; A. C. Stoxen, Bassett, Wis.; Perry R. Crane, Indianapolis, Ind.; T. R. Keene, Wheeler, Ind.; John K. Rathbun, Lombard, Ill.; John K. Gilly, Barrington, Ill.; J. T. Williams, Sterling, Ill.

To Fight Wheat Rust

The American Farm Bureau Federation has asked congress for an increase of from $147,000 to $500,000 annually for the purpose of fighting wheat rust spread by the barberry bush in the great wheat producing states of the middle west.

Delay in speeding up the campaign against black rust of wheat will cost the growers, millers and consumers of wheat millions of dollars, it was stated to congress by the national farm bureau organization.

At the present rate at which the work is being carried on it will take ten to twelve years to clean up the barberry bushes in the middle west, thirteen states where they are the most effective in causing black stem rust in wheat and causing losses averaging more than 125,000,000 bushels per year.

Turning on Pasture

As a rule pastures are the most neglected part of the farm so far as any plan or attention to fertility is concerned.

Pastures are too often grazed off close to the ground from early spring and the grass never given a chance to produce a normal crop.

There may be three times the weight of grass taken from a properly managed pasture than will come from one grazed down to the earth from the day it first turns green in the spring.

Close pasturing encourages the growth of weeds which have a good chance to get started on the bare ground and not being grazed off by the cattle they go to seed and in a few years the pasture will be growing more weeds than grass.

Probably twice as much moisture is retained in a pasture that is allowed to get a good start in the spring.

The food value of early spring grass is very small. This is well illustrated by the experience of ranchmen. The cattle that graze over the ranges during the winter keep their flesh fairly well and few are lost from starvation unless it be caused by a blizzard and heavy fall of snow.

Joseph E. Win, an authority on pastures, states that ten times as many cattle die of starvation after grass comes as were lost during the winter. The fact is that the first grass contains little more than colored water and takes long days of sunshine to put strength and food value in it.

For the good of the cattle as well as the pastures it is far better to wait until grass is well started before turning on the grass.

Management of Alkali Spots

The improvement of so-called "alkali" spots in Illinois is a problem of growing importance because of the increasing extent of such areas. The appearance of new areas is frequently observed, and old areas grow by expanding in ever-widening circles. Not all areas locally called alkali really contain alkaline substances, but frequently owe their unproductiveness to other causes. The true alkali areas, however, are more frequently found in the black sandy soils or dark colored heavy silt loams. In nearly all cases, drainage is found to be deficient and in many of these adequate drainage provision largely solves the difficulty. Where the area is a low spot tapping the lowest point is effective, but prevention of future difficulty is further secured by running a tile line around the borders of the area to offset flooding from the surrounding land. On the heavier soil types the development of unproductive spots is often accompanied by the appearance of a partly impervious layer in the subsurface, even where the topography is slightly sloping. The degree of success which would be secured by tiling these areas can not be predicted.

The fertility treatment needed can be determined in individual cases only by actual trial. Most frequently, however, the application of potassium salts, such as chloride of sulfate at the rate of 200 pounds per acre has proved to be the best means of increasing crop yields. On the sandy types, this is due to remedying an actual deficiency in available potassium, since the soil is locked up in the sand grains which are too coarse to be readily attacked by soil solvents. On the heavier soils the benefits from potassium fertilization may be due in part to balancing the ration of the plant, or rendering other nutrients physiologically available.—E. DeTurk, Div. of Soils, U. of I.

The prefixes of "pseud" and "pseudo" are derived from the Greek pseudos, false, and pseudos, falsehood. Combined with other words—or forms of words—they have the following meaning: 1. A false, spurious or counterfeit condition. 2. An abnormal form of or a close resemblance to (something). 3. A resemblance in many symptoms, but a lack of the specific characters that mark the true form; said of diseases. 4. Non-Euclidean geometry—as, for example, a pseudo-angle.

Beauty in the Sky.

To see the stars well, one must make his camp in the desert. There as he lies rolled for the night in his blankets, surrounded only by distance and desolation, he looks up into greater beauties than all the museums, galleries, and conservatories of civilization can offer. But these things can be seen in part from any farm, and a little even from the street corner.—Frank A. Waugh, in "The Landscape Beautiful."

A Sultan's Watch.

In 1884 a most elaborate watch was made—of twenty-two carat gold—for Sultan Abdul-Medjid by a firm at Cornhill. This giant watch was five inches in diameter. Impure Air in Cities.

The dustiest air is found in cities. In London, Edinburgh and Paris, there are from 80,000 to 210,000 dust particles to the cubic centimeter. A cubic centimeter is about the fifteenth part of the cubic inch. The air having the least dust, as far as observations have been made, is that of the western highlands of Scotland and the Swiss mountain tops. In these regions there are from 10 to 7,000 particles of dust to the cubic centimeter.
